

Dear Las Lomas Families,

It is hard to believe I'm writing the last Roar article of the school year! 2013-2014 was a very productive year.

As you all head off for summer break, we are preparing for a busy summer and the next school year. The LLESD Summer School and the Las Lomas Summer Program will be held on our campus. Several of our teachers will be instructors in those programs. Teachers will also be attending professional development programs over the summer to learn more about the Common Core Standards, technology integration, math and science. Almost 50 LLESD teachers will attend a Writing Institute here at Las Lomas presented by Teachers College Reading & Writing Project instructors. These instructors are offering an evening presentation about the Writing Workshop model for parents on June 17th at 6:00 in Cano Hall. Contact Sherry Jones at sjones@llesd.org for more information. Although the pace will be different, there will still be a lot of activity and learning going on around here!

I hope all of you have a restful vacation, enjoying time with family and loved ones. I look forward a bit of rest and relaxation myself. I want to thank all of you – students, parents, teachers and staff – for another wonderful year.

Until next August,

Sue Sartor
Principal
